Having directed more than 800 valuation assignments, Pam O'Neill is considered one of the leading valuation professionals in the U.S. She has extensive experience in estimating damages, lost profits, disgorgement damages, and other economic calculations, and preparing and presenting expert reports for litigation purposes – as well as for financial and tax reporting, dispute resolution, negotiations, acquisitions, divestitures, reorganizations, and bankruptcy. Pam leads the Valuation & Litigation Consulting practice.

Pam has been retained as an expert witness in numerous litigation consulting engagements and has presented expert witness testimony before judges and arbitration panels. Her engagements include determining the fair value of equity and other business interests, estimating lost profits including economic loss from intellectual property infringement, and determining the damages resulting from a variety of causes of action including breach of contract, tortious interference, and breach of fiduciary duty. She also has testified as an expert witness before the New York Stock Exchange Arbitration panel.

Her corporate engagements include valuations for tax planning and compliance and financial reporting purposes. The purchase price allocations arising from acquisitions have provided Pam with particular expertise in the identification, valuation, and remaining useful life analysis of assets. Tangible asset valuations have included real estate/land, inventory, and equipment. Her intangible asset experience includes: trademarks/trade names, core deposits, patents, non-compete agreements, software, subscriber lists, assembled workforce, customer lists, and goodwill.

Pam has passed all four of the American Society of Appraisers business valuation examinations. Previous work experience includes senior leadership roles at Deloitte and Grant Thornton.
